RECYCLE RIGHT – OUR SERVICE DEPENDS ON IT

The recycling industry has faced significant changes and its affects could result in a loss of service at Innsbrook. With your help in using recycling services correctly, we can continue to live in harmony with nature and keep services. Our provider recently found non-recyclables such as dirty diapers, bottles filled with liquid, a tire and food, all of which must be separated and hauled away at a significant cost to our waste services provider. We may have a loss of service or a significant increase in our waste removal costs if this continues. For a printable PDF of acceptable recycling practices, please visit: <http://bit.ly/IBKrecycle>. Printed copies also are available outside the Property Owner Information Office or the Main Gate. Thank you for doing your part for our community. Ext. 9180.

PROPERTY OWNER ART SHOW: ARTIST HIGHLIGHT

The Property Owner Art Show is now open at Charrette Creek Commons. This week, we feature several artists whose work is in the show.

Art has been Carol Kappel's favorite hobby since high school. She enjoys watercolor, pastels and oil painting. Carol loves to learn more about art and participates in art workshops whenever possible. Innsbrook and her grandchildren are her happiest inspiration!

Mary Redders has enjoyed experimenting with watercolors since painting with a small group of very talented watercolorists in Columbia, Missouri for the past three years. Mary's 93-year-old mother passed away this year and she inherited a lot of her mother's watercolor supplies and watercolor books. Mary is enjoying the challenge that comes with this medium.

Diane Schwarz enjoys painting for fun and relaxation. She has taken a few art classes, but the rest of her artwork comes from her imagination. She works on a variety of pieces with a variety of media – everything from still life to contemporary. Diane likes to find unique beauty in each of her subjects.

Carol Morales' art is currently on display at the Soulard Art Gallery Mixed Media Expo. She has been a part of several shows at the gallery featuring sculpture and woven art. Carole works with several themes for the gallery including Fin, Furs, and Feathers, Blue #2 and Fashion Art.

Jane Johnson Hoeltzel has been an Innsbrook property owner for 34 years. She has been a professional potter for 25 years and has presented many pieces in previous Innsbrook Art Shows. Last year, Jane took up painting as another medium, which she enjoys.

The art show is open through December 10. Ext. 9180.
