RECYCLE RIGHT – OUR SERVICE DEPENDS ON IT

The recycling industry has faced significant changes and its affects could result in a loss of service at Innsbrook. With your help in using recycling services correctly, we can continue to live in harmony with nature and keep services. Our provider recently found non-recyclables such as dirty diapers, bottles filled with liquid, a tire and food, all of which must be separated and hauled away at a significant cost to our waste services provider. We may have a loss of service or a significant increase in our waste removal costs if this continues. For a printable PDF of acceptable recycling practices, please visit: <http://bit.ly/IBKrecycle>. Printed copies also are available outside the Property Owner Information Office or the Main Gate. Thank you for doing your part for our community. Ext. 9180.

PROPERTY OWNER ART SHOW: ARTIST HIGHLIGHT

The Property Owner Art Show is now open at Charrette Creek Commons. This week, we feature two artists whose work is in the show.

Carolyn Cranston has enjoyed art as a hobby throughout the years. She dabbles in a variety of media and has recently joined the Innsbrook Art Guild to further her love of art.

Robert Michelmann enjoys creating something that is new to himself and the viewer. His main expression is in metal, but he enjoys creating watercolor pieces as time permits.

LET'S GET TRACKING

Illustrations can help you distinguish tracks in the field, but reading mammal tracks is a skill that improves with practice. Tracks of the same animal can look different in dust, mud, sand or snow. They also will vary with the animal's size, age, weight and movements.

If you're looking for a new hobby, consider tracking as an activity. Collect and make a habit of carrying the following gear when you're in the wilderness:

- Lightweight tape measure
- Field guide - A quick Internet search will yield the titles of several good track-and-sign field guides. Choose one that includes information on food scraps and other evidence of feeding, nests and burrows, scent marking, distinctive calls, sounds and other helpful details.
- Notepad
- Smartphone or digital camera for recording tracks

Keep in mind a few distinctive features, such as:

- size
- pad marks
- claw marks
- marks made by fur or toe webbing
- marks made by a dragging tail or belly
- shape of pad marks
- number of toes per foot and shapes made by hooves

Other signs to observe are:

- Where do the tracks go?
- Distinctive cuttings and markings of plants

To view specific animal tracks or for more information, visit <http://bit.ly/MDCtrack>.
